Explain how these funds will be used to provide a public benefit:

The AmeriCorps SC Service Commission is a pass-through agency that subgrants federal funds to schools, government agencies and non-profit organizations throughout South Carolina. State funds will support public services in areas of education, environment, healthy futures, economic opportunity, military and veteran services and emergency and disaster preparedness.

AmeriCorps is also a workforce development program which trains and prepares participants to enter the workforce with transferable skills and technical training. The state investment will support recruitment efforts which provide an opportunity for almost 300 South Carolinians to serve in the program and gain practical, transferrable workforce skills.

The State investment in emergency and disaster preparedness will support the response, recovery and preparedness of South Carolina communities in times of emergency or disasters.

Finally, State investment will support proper stewardship of federal funds congressionally designated to South Carolina through ongoing, robust, and continuous monitoring efforts which will ensure compliance with federal rules and regulations.
